

Copy Claps

1. In view of a few people around you, initiate one very confident, single clap.
2. In response to your non-verbal urgings, some of these people will clap once too.
3. Next, clap two times, and wait for even more members of your group to follow suit.
4. Continue to present a series of increasingly complex clapping motions/sounds, eventually enticing all of your group to mimic your actions.
5. End with a courteous series of claps that morph into applause.

playmeo